Obituary of James Wright.
The ranks of Allen Chapel have been broken, and one who stood in the front has fallen.
After a very brief illness, Bro.
James Wright is at rest with God.
He began that peaceful rest about forty years ago. Bro.
James Wright was born in Boxhill, Sussex, England, February 1, 1815. At the age of eighteen, he came to America (in the year 1833), and settled in Mt. Vernon, Ohio. From Mt. Vernon he went to Jackson, where he was united in marriage to Miss Emily Finch, July 5, 1838, and in 1844 moved to Noble County, Indiana, from which place he was called by the Master from labor to reward, July 22, 1881, aged 66 years, 5 months and 21 days. The deceased leaves the companions of his youth with six children to mourn his departure. Written by E. Robinson.

Amelia Wright was born in Seneca County, New York, Jan. 11, 1816. Removed to Charles Town, Clark County, in 1825; thence to Granville, Ohio. She was married to James Wright, deceased, July 5th 1838, and in the year 1844 removed to Noble County, Ind. To them were born seven children - two sons and five daughters. Six children are left to mourn the loss of a dear mother, who will knew the hardships and toil connected with pioneer life.

Disposing of their farm in 1878, they removed to Kendallville, and after the death of her husband, Mrs. Wright returned to the old homestead.

Died — At the old homestead, near Kendallville, Ind., June 26th, 1876. Rufus B.
Gallup, aged 66 years 8 months and 10 days.

Mr. Gallup was born in Otsego County, New York, October 16th, 1809. Came to this County thirty-three ago, and purchased the farm above referred to, to which he moved his family twenty five years ago last October.

He never entered that quiet and peaceful home, until the father, full of years and good works, was taken away.

Mr. Gallup experienced religion in his twenty-sixth year, in the city of Albany, New York.

Twenty years ago he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Kendallville, in which he lived a consistent member until his death, which was calm, peaceful, and serene, and our loss is his gain.

The deceased leaves a wife, son and two daughters, with their families, to mourn, but not as those who have no hope of a reunion, for as they were all members of the church militant together, so, if faithful, shall they be of the church above.

Signed D. P. Hartman.

Apr. 22. — In Noble County, Ia., father Ruben Gallop, in the sixty-fourth year of his age.

The deceased was born in Grafton, Rensselaer County, N.Y., and was "born again" and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Westford, Otsego County, N.Y., under the labors of Rev. John Bangs, rising thirty years since.

His disease was of a lingering nature; and, in its earlier stages, he expressed some desire to live; but, being apprehensive of its fatal character, he sought and obtained a deeper work of grace in his soul; this we easily perceived during our subsequent visits, as we noticed his unbounded submission to the Divine will, and his ripening desire to depart and be with Christ. During his later sickness he told his friends and family that he had nothing more to do but to sing and pray, and watch for the coming of the Master. It was during these days that, after reciprocal exhortations to faithfulness, we left his house, pausing to hear him feebly sing the favorite stanza of a favorite hymn:

"When shall I be delivered From this vain world of sin,
And, with my blessed Jesus, Drink endless pleasures in."

He lived and died a Christian signed S. T. Stout.

Abigail Gallup was born in Monroe, Saratoga County, N.Y.
She died in Kendallville, Ind., June 10, 1893, at the age of 80 years, 1 month and 22 days.

In 1835 she was united in marriage to Rufus Gallup.
This union was blessed with five children, two of whom died in infancy. Three are living, John L. Gallup, Luthena Tate and Adaline Wright, who were present to pay the last tribute of love to the gentle mother whose kiss first greeted them in infancy and whose sweet Christian spirit has been a benediction to them through the years gone by.
She experienced religion at the age of seventeen and for over thirty-seven years she has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this place.

A humble follower of Christ, it was her meet to do the Master's will. She found in Him that "rest that remaineth to the people of God". Now she hath entered fully into that rest. It was not her desire to be "carried to the skies on flowery beds of ease." She was willing to bear the cross that she might win the crown. Her life's work was done. Her house was set in order. For years she has been sitting at the gateway, waiting.
At last the gates have opened and she has gone to dwell forever in that home of the soul.

Resolutions

In respect to the memory of the late Pomervoy E. Jones.

To the Brethren of Noble Council No. 4, O.C.F., of Kendallville, Ind.: Your committee to whom was referred the duty of drafting resolutions in respect to the memory of our late brother, P. E. Jones, would fraternally submit the following for your approval:

Pomervoy E. Jones died at his residence three miles north-east of Kendallville, April 12th, 1880, aged 47 years and four months.
His disease was Typhomalarial Fever. Brother Jones was made a Chosen Friend and charter member of Noble Council, No. 4, of Kendallville, Indiana, Dec. 12, 1879, was an earnest worker and performed his duties faithfully, and to the satisfaction of our will.

We shall always remember him as an active member of the Council, extending our charity and sympathy for one so afflicted by a terrible and fatal disease, through which he struggled manfully. To his family we deeply, sincerely and most affectionately sympathize in their afflictive bereavement, and believe our Heavenly Father looks down with infinite compassion upon the widow and fatherless in the hour of their desolation; and that the same benevolent Saviour who wept tears of sympathy at the grave of Bethany will fold his arms of love and protection around those who put their trust in Him.
We recommend that the Council Room be draped in mourning the usual time; that the foremorial book, and a copy be sent to the widow

At the stated meeting held April 20th, 1880, the foregoing was duly approved.

Homer B. Frink,

Recorder.

Died, March 2, 1884, of puerperal fever, Mrs. Abba A. Franks, wife of J. C. Franks. Mrs. Franks, formerly Abba Jones, sister of R. C. Jones, was born near Auburn, Ind., Sept. 6, 1858, baptized at Kendallville, January 1st, 1861, united with the M. E.
Church at

at a Green, Rosine's mother January 17, 1872, removed with her parents to this place, in May, 1876. She was married to Spurgeon C. Franks, Dec. 25, 1882, was an exemplary and estimable lady, and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all who knew her. Her death is regretted by a large circle of friends. The funeral took place on Tuesday from the M. E. Church, Rev. Greer officiating. Her remains, encased in a beautiful casket, were laid at rest in a well constructed brick vault, at Lake View Cemetery.

January 11 — At his father's near Kendallville Noble County, Ind., of Consumption, Jerome G. Bashford, only son of Jason and Mary A. Bashford, in the Twenty-third year of his age.
From a child he had manifested a great love for books. Being possessed of a mind cast in no ordinary mold, he made rapid advancement. He was a member of the junior class of the University of Michigan. Last summer, finding his health much impaired, he came home to recover his wasted energies; but alas! it was to die. For months, in the immediate prospect of death, he bore his affliction as a Christian. Having been reared by Christian parents, he was often the subject of deep religious feeling;

but never, till a short time before his death, had he made an open profession of faith in Christ.

Although his parents feel that they are "bereaved, indeed," yet they are cheered with the bright hope of meeting their son in that city whose builder and maker is God. As being equally appropriate in his case, we quote the following lines from an article written by himself, on the death of a fellow-student:

"He has gone! He has gone! in the pride of his youth, While gathering the laurels of wisdom and truth.

Yes! he has gone to his rest! He now sleeps 'neath the clod; And his spirit has flown to its Maker and God."

Basford

Died - At his residence Friday morning, March 21, Jason Basford, aged 78 years.

Mr. Basford was born in Chester, N. H., in February, 1808, where he spent his youth among its green mountains, engaged in agriculture. The four years following this were spent in Boston, and from thence he removed to Albany, N. Y., and in 1834 married Miss Mary Jane Gallup, who survives him after a long life of happy wedlock, numbering fifty-two years. Mr. Basford resided ten years in Albany, and after a short stay in Indiana came to Kan Kakee, where the autumn of his life has been spent - some twenty years.

He has never been actively engaged in business since becoming a resident of our city, but has lived in quiet retirement, a zealous member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. His membership with this organization dates back to 1835, and it is a noble commentary on his life that he has kept the faith these many years, and exerted his influence for a Christian world, and his life, in its unconscious influence upon those who came in contact with it, will still live, not only in the here after, but in the associations of this world.

The deceased besides his wife, leaves two daughters, the eldest Mrs. Young of Hebron, Conn. and Mrs. Tarick of Canandaigua, N. Y. Both of these ladies have been for a number of weeks at the bedside of his father. The funeral services were held yesterday at 2 o'clock P.M., the Rev. J. C. Clendenning of the Methodist Church, officiating. The remains were interred in the family lot at the Kankakee cemetery. Mr. Parrish, son-in-law of the deceased from Canandaigua, N. Y., was also present at the funeral.

Mrs. Laura L. Emick died at Detroit, Mich., on Thursday, November 3d. 1887, aged 80 years, 8 months and 8 days.

The funeral services were held in the M. E. Church, this city, last Monday, conducted by Rev. Phillips. Mrs. Emick, whose maiden name was { Gallup, was } born March 11th, 1807, in the town of Westford, Otsego County, N. Y. She became converted under the preaching of Elder Cross, and joined the Free Baptist Church in 1831 at Cherry Valley, N. Y. She emigrated to Indiana in 1841, when she united with the M. E. Church with Rev.

Wesley Miller, and remained a faithful member until death.
She had but two children, Mrs.
S. Wolff, of this city, and Squire Emick, residing at Detroit.

John Leonard Gallup was born in Warren County, New York, New York, March 14, 1843 and died at Ft. Worth, Texas, Feb 2, 1895, aged 51 years, 10 months and 18 days. He came with his father's family, at the age of seven, to Noble County, Indiana, in 1850. Here he spent a number of years in the successful pursuit of farming, but the last sixteen years of his life were devoted to other occupations, with his residence in Kendallville. He was united in marriage to Martha E. Young, an estimable young lady of a highly respected family, in this city May 5, 1864, by Rev. H. J. Meek, who was at that time pastor of the M.E. Church of Kendallville.

There was born of this union one child, Rufus B., who is now one of the thrifty and reliable business men of our city, a partner in the grocery firm of Quarr and Gallup. Mr. John L. Gallup was born of good parentage. His father and mother were highly respected people in the community where they lived and were devotedly religious. They sought to impart to their children both by precept and example, those principles, which would lead to pure aims and exalted purposes.

These principles laid broad and deep by parental influence, were brought into requisition by young John in the early part of his business life, by which he quickly gained the respect and large acquaintance of his contemporaries, and was recognized as a man of intelligence and was regarded by his many friends as a man of successful business ability. He was a member in good standing of four of the secret & ritual orders of this city: The National Union, Knights of Honor, Knights of Pythias, and Free and Accepted Masons in all of which he stood high, both as a man and as a member of the orders respectively, winning for himself the respect and confidence of his brethren by his promptness and constancy in support of the orders and his hearty sympathy with their principles. But whatever existed in his mind of ideal perfection in the business world, or of ambition for enterprise and achievement, all has been cut short and quickly premature of an sudden and tragic death. He leaves a wife, one son, two sisters and a large circle of personal friends to mourn their loss.

He was a most kind and loving husband and father.

No sacrifice was too great for him to make for the benefit of his family and friends.

So the life of man in this world marks the boundary and measures the area of his possessions and sows the seed; the winds drive the chaff away, while the pure grain remains, to be weighed in a righteous balance by Him who has the right to judge.

USE OTHER SIDE FOR ANY ADDITIONAL DATA

Magdalanah Mock was born Feb. 4, 1819 near Hagerstown, Md.

Married 1842. Died Oct. 19, 1912

I have some data on Mock.

Where does the Seeger or Sager come in.

I have the address of a man who has

Sager - Seeger - Seager - Seegen - Sejer family of Pa., Ohio, Ind., It is just possible he might have the name of the daughter who was disowned.

Was the Sager on the Mock side or just where does this come in.

Let me know soon.

Would Ira Gallup have any thing to help out. Sometimes just one name will help.

Sincerely

Mrs. H. G. Misselhorn

Dear Mrs. Misselhorn;

The information sought by your letter last Tuesday is something that we <sup>do</sup> had not have on file. The Gallup Genealogy makes no reference ~~to~~ <sup>for</sup> Reuben Gallup, born Grafton, Rensselaer County, New York, 1785.

I should be very glad to have the bible references that you mention for our files. Although this Association has been in existence for quite a number of years, we have not given any thought to Genealogical matters until recently. As our plans materialize, I hope that we may sponsor another edition and fill in all of the information missing from the earlier book.

Very truly yours,

CAG: JD

Magdalanah Mock in 1847.

The last two were my grand father

I asked my mother and she does not know the first name of my grandmother's mother nor the first name of my grandmother's grandfather Sager. So it looks as if it would be rather hard to trace

So if I can go back in the Gallup line maybe I'd better try it. There fore I will pay the postage, ins. etc.

Thank you for your interest,

Dear Mrs. Misselhorn:

I have your letter of Nov. 26th and wish to thank you for your interest in the Gallup Family. I have made a search in the Otsego County History, Montgomery and Schenectady histories also, but do not find the Reuben Gallup who is desired by the lady for her D.A.R. work. I do not find him in the Gallup Genealogy but assume that you have searched that book long ago.

My purpose in putting the article in the St. Johnsville paper was primarily to discover the name of the man in the middle West who started to collect Gallup data to revise the very good Genealogy that was published in 1893. Then I have news that a Gallup Home for senior members of the Gallup Family, is now contemplated and I am anxious to assist toward this worthy cause if it takes place so that I can be of any help.

I descended from Samuel Gallup who married Mehitabel Blount so my line is a little different from the Nathaniel line or those who settled in Otsego County.

Perhaps if you would write directly to the Educational University Library of Albany, Genealogy Department, and ask about the name desired, you would be able to get the data. I do not possess any large amount of data so far, outside of my genealogy and some county histories, as I am not searching for any lineage purpose. I want to help found the Home but if I am able to help anyone I will gladly do so.

Sincerely yours

Loe Tunnickliff
